200,000 Gifts in Greenbacks, of $1 each.

20,000 TICKETS AT 50 CENTS EACH.

The Grand Concert will take place in the

NORFOLK OPERA HOUSE.

On Monday Evening, Dec. 23, 1872.

And will in itself be a full compensation

for the price charged for Admission Tickets.

The distribution of Gifts will take place

immediately after the Concert, on the vast stage of the Opera House, and in full view of the audience, under the immediate superintendence of the President and Directors of the VUE DE L'EAU COMPANY, and the following distinguished gentlemen, who have kindly consented to be present and see that the gifts are properly distributed as advertised.

Hon John R. Ludlow, Mayor of Norfolk,

Hon A. S. Watts, Mayor of Portsmouth,

Col Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk,

Hon John B. Whitehead, Ex-Mayor of Norfolk,

James G. Holladay, Esq., of Portsmouth,

The Board of Directors is composed of the following gentlemen, whose well known character, or integrity, honor, and public enterprise are so well known as to guarantee success, and a fair and impartial distribution of the gifts:

Major George W. Grier, President Bank of

Portsmouth,

Col William Lamb, President First National

Bank, Norfolk,

Gen V D. Grover, General Agent Boston

Steamship Company,

Captain Samuel Burruss, Son & Co.,

Washington Reed, Esq., of Peters & Reed

Mechanics,

E. G. Galt, Esq., Superintendent Seaboard

and Roanoke Railroad,

Robert J. Neely, Esq., of R. J. & W. Neely

& Co.,

Marshall Parks, Esq., President Alber-

marie & Chesapeake Canal Company,

E. C. Lindsey, Esq., Real Estate Broker,

William W. White, Esq., Attorney at Law,

Norfolk.

The distribution will be by blindfold

persons or children, from two wheels, one of which will contain gifts on printed slips

sealed in envelopes of the same size, the other will contain tags, with numbers on them corresponding with all the tickets

sold; after the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed by revolving, the person

at the first wheel will take a number there-

from, and then the person at the second wheel will take a gift therefrom, and the gift thus taken will belong to the number

taken immediately before it.—This process

will continue—the numbers and gifts being publicly announced—until the whole lot of numbers and gifts are distributed. This public will readily see there can be no fraud, collusion, or knowledge of what gift any number will get.

Should the tickets be not all sold, when the concert closes off, the presents will be distributed in proportion to the number sold.

It is hoped the public will promptly respond to this effort to establish upon a firm

basis a delightful resort during the heated months.

TICKETS ONLY 50 CENTS EACH.

Currency Gifts will be paid in cash at our banking House in the city of Norfolk, on presentation of the tickets entitled thereto,

without discount.

LOCAL MATTER.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Great activity prevailed in the Radical camp all day yesterday.

All the Churches in the city were largely attended on Sunday, both morning and evening.

The mail and passenger train on the North Carolina Railroad was delayed

yesterday several hours, for what cause

we were unable to learn.

Who is the handsomest member in the House of Representatives this year, is the question now being agitated;

we shall vote a closed ticket for—

The man that stole Kuenter's cane is almost as mean as the man that stole our Meerschaum pipe. If he will bring back our pipe he can keep the stick.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard, pastor of the first Baptist Church of this city, is, we learn,

preparing a sermon for Thanksgiving

day, suitable to the times and the occasion.

The bird men were exhibiting their pets on the streets yesterday, and the truly wonderful performance of nature's songsters won the admiration of all who saw them.

Carter, the Assistant Doorkeeper of the House, as an announcer, is not altogether a success—but, we know, Carter

(like Peeler's brandy), will improve on age.

Old "Epizootic," George T. Stronach &

Bro's male dray ox, moved off yesterday

with nine bales of cotton, and never thought once of stopping to blow before reaching the depot.

A young man by the name of Gailey,

was brought to this city from Sampson county Saturday evening and lodged in jail by United States Deputy Marshals, charged with Kukuizing. We learn of some outrages that were committed in this arrest upon other parties, which we intend to ferret out and if correct will publish.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Hon. W. A. Graham is at the Yarmorough.

Gen. Abbott is sojourning at the National.

Col. T. Brown Venable, of Granville,

is in the city.

Maj. F. H. Cameron, Secretary of the

Wilmington North Carolina Life

Insurance Company, is in the city on business connected with his Company.

Hon. T. C. Fuller and Col. J. W.

Hindsdale, both members of the Fayetteville Bar, are in attendance upon the U. S. Circuit Court now in session

in this city.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—E. W.

Thomson & Co., Exchange Place, Auc-

tioners and Commission Merchants, is a firm of young men eminently worthy of a large public patronage. Mr. Thomson is one of the best auctioneers in the scope of our acquaintance, while Mr.

Labarre as an accountant and thoroughly accomplished business man, is not surpassed by any one. Success to them.

Special attention is directed to the several announcements of Wm. Simpson, druggist, elsewhere in to-day's

News. The finest and most valuable vaccine matter just received is a matter of great importance to our citizens.

Messrs. A. C. Saunders & Co. will sell

two oxen and a few fine young horses.

They will also sell city scrip.

Split fire wood can be obtained of D. G. Fite, of this city. See notice.

CONVINCED.—The editor of the Wilmington Post, Republican in politics,

has the following to say concerning the Yarborough House, in this city:

"We have often wondered why the press were so unanimously favorable to this hotel. It seemed as though it was because of political predilections, but we have ceased to wonder. Dr. Black-nell, the proprietor, is so courteous a gentleman, so attentive to the wants of his guests, and his servants so desirous of pleasing, that we cannot blame the press for lauding him to the skies. The Yarborough is to be enlarged to three times

its present size, to meet the wants of the traveling public, and we do not believe it will then be any too large. Visitors at Raleigh will receive the most polite attention and careful regard for their comfort, and if they try the Yarborough they will be delighted. The rooms are comfortable and the table bountiful."

U. S. Circuit Court.—Monday, Nov.

25th, 1872.—The Circuit Court of the United States opened in this city yesterday at Metropolitan Hall, Judge G.

W. Brooks, presiding.

The jury, fifty-two in number, were called and all answered except two.

The Judge announced that the jury

would be drawn at ten o'clock to-morrow morning and his charge given.

No business of importance was transacted except the transferring of a few cases on the criminal docket to Asheville, and continuing a few others till

June term.

A nol pro's was entered in the case of

Col. A. A. McKoy, indicted under the Enforcement Act. (More of this case hereafter.)

Oxford Items.—Under date of yesterday, our Oxford correspondent furnishes us the following items of interest from his locality: Crawford, one of the most enterprising druggists
in the State, has just returned from the Northern cities, whither he had gone to purchase a fresh supply of drugs and fancy goods.

Mr. James A. Padillo, a highly respected citizen of this county, accompanied him as far as Baltimore, to have a large tumor amputated from his body.
It will be very gratifying to the num-ous friends of Mr. Padillo to learn that he is doing very well, and it is thought able to return to his family, quite restored. The tumor weighed over twenty pounds, and had been growing for some eight years. It emanated on the upper part of his back, not very far below the neck. The operation was performed by Dr. C. Johnson, of Baltimore, in the most successful and scientific manner. It took over thirty an-nutes to perform the operation, but, strange to say, Mr. Padillo submitted to it without taking chloroform.
Mr. Padillo must be a gentleman of an iron constitution.
He has been in the habit of attending to his farm, notwithstanding the great weight of the tumor, and he has been so often seen moving briskly on our streets with an immense excrescence on his back, as if he had something the size of a half bushel measure under his coat, that he is well known to our citizens. Mr. Crawford says he was quite an object of curiosity to the Baltimoreans who saw him, and many persons of that City, besides a large class of medical students, witnessed the operation.

Rev. R. A. March, the Baptist Minister at this place, has resigned charge of the church here to take work in other parts of the county. He serves his connection with the church here greatly to the regret of its members, as he was a most esteemed Pastor.

ONE BULL'S CONCERT.—Metropolitan
Hall was crowded last night to its utmost capacity, to hear the world renowned Violinist, Ole Bull.

As a musical critic we are not a success, for we can conscientiously assert that we never yet saw any piable difference between "Yankee Doodle" or the "Last Rose of Summer," and never knew one single note of music; therefore an expression of opinion from us in regard to the merits or demerits of this Concert, is not worth its space.

We were charmed and delighted with the piano solo's of Mr. J. W. Pattison, and from the tremendous applause with which his pieces were received, we may safely say that he acted well his part.

Signor Ferranti, sung all together in a
"turrino" tongue, and as far as we know, he did it well. From the hearty encore he received,
it was evident that many "turriners"
were present in the Hall.

Miss Grizzella Ridgeway, who the press of the Northern cities has lauded
to the skies as an artist of extraordinary genius, fully sustained her reputation on our stage.

As to Ole Bull, it is well known that he is the shoulder and front of all fidlers, and though we would have enjoyed it more if the fiddling had been interspersed with "Dixie," "Sugar in the Gourd," "Rosa the Bow," and
"sch" like, yet we were satisfied,
knowing that the more cultivated tastes
of the audience enjoyed it highly as it was.

His concert was a success—a grand success. His large and intelligent audience were well pleased, and every one left the Hall satisfied that they had gotten the worth of their money.

THE CUMBERLAND COUNTY FAIR.—
We regret exceedingly that the report of our special reporter at the Fayetteville
Fair came in too late for publication.

The Fair was in every particular a grand success. Especial mention is made of the indefatigable energies of Capt. John A. Williams, the Chief Marshal, and his corps of Assistants, who preserved the utmost order and decorum on the Grounds. The farmers of old Cumberland manifested a lively interest in the Fair by furnishing many articles for exhibition. A large delegation attended from Raleigh, who enjoyed the Fair and returned safely to their homes Saturday morning. Our reporter also speaks in high terms of the Agricultural Address of Col. A. A. Mc-Koy, of Sampson.

RESIGNED.—From considerations of health, and for other reasons, we learn that Mr.

OUR DOUBTING GOVERNOR.

We call attention to a communication in another column, from a distinguished citizen of the State, in regard to that portion of Gov. Caldwell's message that refers to the Legislative apportionment.

We agree with our correspondent that the message is a strictly partisan document. It is unworthy of a place in the records of the State department and is a disgrace to North Carolina.

The Governor, from the time he first entered upon the duties of his office up to the present, has shown a subservience to party dictation and a pandering to party prejudice and malice that are without any parallel in the official careers of the former Executives of North Carolina.

It is reported that if the Governor had felt authorized to do so, he would have prevented the assembling of the Legislature because that body has a Conservative majority.

We do not know whether such is the fact or not, but we have heard there was a correspondence on the subject with certain Radical Judges, and that the policy was seriously discussed as to the propriety and policy of declaring the Legislature an unconstitutional body. We have before noticed that the Governor in his message says it is exceedingly doubtful whether the present Legislature has not been chosen in violation of the Constitution. He does not now propose to raise so grave a question. Why not now?

If the Legislature is really an unconstitutional body, it would be to the interest of the people of the State to have the matter decided at the earliest practicable moment, to prevent endless confusion, litigation and chaos hereafter, when the validity of its acts as being an illegal body come to be tested before the Courts?

The Governor doubts the legality of the present Legislature on the ground that the apportionment by the last General Assembly of Senators and Representatives was made in violation of the Constitution. At least he says, "it is exceedingly doubtful whether they had any right" to make such apportionment.

To be sure no one but himself is responsible for the doubts that flit through his Excellency's brain, but we cannot see the force of his logic nor admit the conclusions to which he has arrived. In fact, we have been unable, after looking into the matter, to see any reasons for the grave doubts he entertains touching this matter.

The only provisions of the Constitution relating to the subject are found in Secs. 4, 5, 6, and 8, of Art. 2. Sec. 2. requires that the House apportionment shall be made at the same time and for the same periods as the Senatorial Districts—and Sec. 8. ascertains the composition of the House until a new apportionment shall be made.

These, therefore, do not inform us at what time, and for what periods the apportionment shall be made.

Sec. 5 directs that an enumeration of inhabitants shall be taken by the State in the year 1875, and at the end of every ten years thereafter, and that the Senate Districts shall be altered by the General Assembly at the first session after the return of every enumeration taken as aforesaid, or by order of Congress, and shall remain unaltered until the return of another enumeration. A census was taken by order of Congress in 1870.

The return, or report of enumeration, was made in the Spring of 1871. The first session of the Legislature after that time was the session beginning November 1871. This was the session at which the apportionment was made. Where is there any reason for the Governor to be exceedingly doubtful about this matter? If it is not the proper session, which is it? The session of November 1870? There had been no return of enumeration, no "report" made before that session. But the Governor intimates that the present session is the proper one. Is this the first session of the Legislature had after the return of a census made in 1870, and reported to Congress in the Spring of 1871?

The State is to take an enumeration in the year 1875. The report of such census will doubtless be made in the Spring of 1876, and at the session of November 1875, a new apportionment will be made. Those alterations based on the National Census will be made in 1871 '72, 1881 '82, 1891 '92. Those on the State census will be made in 1876 '77, 1886 '87, 1896 '97. This gives us periods of five years between the alterations.

Suppose it were otherwise, and the alterations based on the National census were made in 1872 '73, 1882 '83, 1892 '93, instead of "the periods" of which the 6th section speaks above? We would then have a "varying series" of four and six years between the alterations in the Senatorial districts.

If we were required to theorize as to the origin of the Governor's doubts, we would suggest that he has failed to understand the fourth section.

This section gives no direction whatever as to the time when the alterations in the senatorial districts are to be made, such directions being found in section 5 quoted above, and not else where.

Section 4 simply divides the State into 43 senatorial districts, and directs that the Senate shall be composed of members elected from the districts thus ascertained until a certain time or event.

The event is "the first session of the General Assembly which shall be had after the year 1871." That must necessarily be the session of November 1872. So until the session of November, 1872, the Senate shall be composed of members elected from the said 43 Districts. Such is the constitutional mandate; and has it not been obeyed? The Senatorial Districts were altered it is true; but has the composition of the Senate been changed before the first session after the year 1871? The Governor has possibly failed to appreciate the difference between the Senatorial District and the Senator—and perhaps also it has escaped him that there is no Senate to transact business except when the body of Senators are organized in session.

It is a matter of not unusual occurrence that a Representative retains his seat in Congress after his district has been very much changed—and perhaps after some one else has been chosen to succeed him. This is referred to by way of illustrating the position that an alteration of the Senatorial Districts in no wise operates to affect the Senators composing the Senate.

We trust the Governor will be able to dismiss his doubts as to the constitutionality of the present Assembly, after he looks carefully into the law on the subject.

OUR IGNORANT GOVERNOR.

The Governor says he has no power over the militia of the State—that the last Legislature deprived him of all authority in the premises, so that he is now powerless to protect the people from outlaws and insurgents.

The Governor must be willfully ignorant on this subject. If he will study the acts of the Legislature carefully on the militia question he will find out that he has more power over the State militia than was possessed by any of his predecessors before the war.

We say before the war, because we admit that Governor Holden was clothed with more power over the "detailed" militia than the last Legislature were willing should be in the hands of any one man, no matter what position he occupied. Therefore the law giving the Governor dictatorial power on the subject of the militia, was very properly repealed, but the old law as it stands in the Revised Code is still in operation in all material parts, but new power have been added, giving the Governor more authority than the law conferred before the war.

In the matter of appointing Boards of Directors for the Penitentiary and the Asylums, the Governor ignored the law, and his conduct was usurpation and revolutionary. He proceeded against the counsel of leading Republican lawyers, and by a course of folly and petty obstinacy, brought down upon his head public ridicule and indignation.

In his last message we have pointed out how ridiculously he blundered in his criticism of the election law. The Governor's first objection to the present law was that it required the ballots to be on white paper and without device. He states that he has been unable to conceive why this arrangement should be made, "and no one has been able to suggest a plausible reason for it." We called the Governor's attention to the fact that this system was in favor in several States, in order to secure as perfect as possible the benefits to be derived from the ballot. The statutes of several States "prohibit ballots being received or counted unless the same are written or printed upon white paper, without any marks or figures thereon, to distinguish one ballot from another. These statutes are simply declaratory of a constitutional principle that inheres in the system of voting by ballot, and which ought to be inviolable, whether declared or not." The same writer, Cooley, who is considered standard authority in this country, adds on the subject:

"In the absence of such a statute," (requiring white paper without device), "all devices by which party managers are enabled to distinguish ballots in the hands of the voter, and thus determine whether he is voting for or against them, are opposed to the spirit of the Constitution, inasmuch as they tend to defeat the design for which voting by ballot is established."

But yet the Governor in his simple ignorance of the first principles of the government, is unable to conceive why the requirements should be made and has heard no plausible reason why ballots should be on white paper and without device.

If he will study more closely the principles upon which the law is founded, he will learn the use and necessity of the provision.

The coroner's jury at Boston have returned a verdict charging the murder of Abijah Ellis, whose dismembered body was found floating in the Charles river, in two barrels, upon Leavitt Alley. The latter has been fully committed for trial.

Grant's majority in Illinois is 56,118. Oglesby's majority for Governor is 41,424.

"IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE GOVERNMENT."

We commend to Governor Caldwell the following statement concerning the condition of affairs in South Carolina.

South Carolina has a unanimous delegation of Radical members of Congress and United States Senators. South Carolina is in full accord with the National Administration—but her people are still plundered, and her citizens have been arrested and thrown into prisons. With a State Government intensely and overwhelmingly Radical, martial law was proclaimed in eight or ten counties, and a reign of terror produced in a time of profound peace.

Poor, impoverished, ruined South Carolina stands as a sad monument of Radical pillage and desolation. Yet that State, according to Caldwell's theory, is in full accord with the Government. The condition of North Carolina is bad enough in all conscience, but it is vastly preferable to that of our Sister State. We have a Conservative Legislature, brave and honest enough to resist the threats of Radical intimidation and the blandishments of Radical favor!

The following article shows in a few words the pitiable and demoralized condition of financial affairs in South Carolina. It is copied from the New York Express:

SOUTH CAROLINA—POOR RUINED STATE.

Reports of the condition of South Carolina finances are not very encouraging to bondholders. The State Controller, it seems, proposes to raise a sum only equal to that required on $9,865,908 of the funded debt, leaving about $6,000,000 unprovided for. These are of the conversion bonds and are largely held in the North; but no satisfactory account of their sale has ever been made—and the Controller practically repudiates them. But even the taxes that are to be collected to meet the interest on the remainder of the funded debt are not to be covered into the State treasury without a struggle. The State officials, elected on the Mosca ticket in October, have prevented this by the issuing of a restraining injunction procured at their instance. Whatever may be the real cause of South Carolina's financial troubles, it is clear that even the officials do not trust each other.

THE UNITY OF THE PARTY.

The Conservatives have a majority in the Legislature sufficiently large for practical purposes, if we can preserve harmony in our ranks.

In order to subvert the interests of the people, it is very essential to keep in compact and thorough organization. The least departure from that principle among the representatives of the party in the Legislature will breed dissatisfaction and produce strife.

There is no necessity for any rupture—unless the Conservatives desire to dig the grave of their own political organization and thus tamely surrender without regular, organized opposition, to the power of Radicalism.

NORTH CAROLINA FIRST.

We regret to see that there has been a spirit manifested, in the last three or four days, among those who have heretofore occupied high positions in our ranks, which is calculated to weaken the Conservative cause, and to embarrass and distract the party.

We do hope, for the sake of the people of North Carolina, that personal bitterness will be subordinated to the public good, and the interests of the State will not suffer through the strifes and ambitions of individuals.

The Car Hook Tragedy—New Phase of the Putnam-Foster Murder—Mrs. Putnam sues the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company for Damages on Account of the Killing of her Husband—The Testimony Taken and Motion to Dismiss the Complaint.

Until yesterday the name of Wm. Foster, the alleged car hook murderer, has not been uttered for many months in our Courts. More startling, though not more atrocious, deeds of crime have caused alike his name and the terrible crime which he is charged to be almost forgotten. Again the crime is revived in the public memory by a trial begun yesterday by Mrs. Ella E. Putnam, the wife of Avery D. Putnam, the victim of the murder, against the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company, to recover damages on account of her husband's death. The suit is for $5,000 damages, this amount being the "utmost" the law allows in suits of this character for killing, although for maiming—one of those unaccountable freaks of the law—there is no limitation in the amount to be sued for. The suit was brought before Judge Curtis, of the Superior Court.

The old, old story. Such it really is, First, it recited in the complaint of Mrs. Putnam—a briefly epitomized recital of the same story as published directly after the murder, which occurred on the evening of April 26, 1871—and then as told at the Coroner's inquest. The entire blame of the killing of her husband is, of course, charged upon the railroad company, and upon the damages are claimed. It is further set forth in the complaint that her husband died intestate and left a boy thirteen years old, wholly dependent on her for support. The answer of the company sets up a general denial of the allegations contained in the complaint, or, to quote the technical legal phraseology in which this denial is set forth, denies that the death of Putnam was caused "through any willful act, neglect or default of the defendants, or by any willful act, neglect or default of any agent, servant, or employee of the defendants."

The testimony in Mrs. Putnam's behalf. The testimony taken was but a repetition of the former stories and occupied but a short time. Her testimony, as she was not present at the murderous assault, was merely reciting the particulars of her husband's death. The testimony of Miss Mabel Daval, one of the ladies with Mr. Putnam at the time of the tragedy, was the same as that given at the murder trial. The concluding witness was Mrs. Annie S. Daval, the mother of Mr. Putnam, who also was with Mr. Putnam on the night of the fatal occurrence. She told the same story as at her previous examination. As this testimony has been fully published heretofore in the Herald, it is unnecessary to give it again.

After the conclusion of Mrs. Daval's testimony, a motion was made to dismiss the complaint. This motion was argued at great length by ex-Judge Porter and Mr. John M. Scribner, counsel for the railroad company. They insisted that the company should be held in no way responsible for the killing of Mr. Putnam. The murderous blows, it was urged, were struck after all the parties had left the cars. A large number of authorities was cited in substantiation of this argument. Mr. Parsons in reply took, of course, exactly the opposite view of the case. He claimed that it was the duty of the conductor, in the first place, to put Foster off the car on account of his intoxicated condition; and secondly, that it was the duty of the driver to inform the conductor of Foster's insults to the ladies in Mr. Putnam's car. He dwelt at great length upon the responsibility of the railroad company to insure safety to the passengers, and its liability for damages when any one was killed or injured from want of such care. He also quoted numerous authorities.

It was nearly five o'clock when the argument closed. The Judge did not announce his decision, but will probably do so this morning.—N. Y. Herald.

Just as a passenger train on the Detroit and Milwaukee road was clear of Detroit, and running at the rate of ten or twelve miles an hour, and old man suddenly leaped from his seat, rushed to the platform, and bounded off, turning about forty somersaults before he brought up against the fence! In a short time he appeared at the depot, looked all around, and then exclaimed: "What an old fool! I thought I had left my umbrella here, and jumped off the cars to get it, and now hang me if I don't remember chucking it under the seat."

The Petersburg ice manufacturing company was organized Friday. Capt. John C. Brain was elected President, Dr. J. Herbert Claiborne, Vice-President, Joseph Van Holt Nash, Secretary and Treasurer. A full Board of Directors was chosen. A charter for the company will be applied for at once.

Samuel M. Somers, of Fairmont, West Virginia, fell down a flight of stairs at Parkersburg last week and was instantly killed.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Shoots his Wife.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Francis Martin, a Spaniard and cigar dealer, fatally shot his wife to-day. Martin has been arrested. The parties moved in respectable society.

Grant's Majority in New York.
ALBANY, Nov. 24.—Grant's majority is 56,695 in the State.

Horse Malady.

WHEELING, Nov. 24.—The malady is steadily increasing.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 24.—The malady is rapidly increasing.

NOON DISPATCHES.

An Important Decision—The Horse Malady Affecting the Deer.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 25.—Judge Miller of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, has decided that a bankrupt cannot sell his homestead and claim his store as a residence by moving into it, and orders that the store and lot be delivered to the bankrupt's creditors.

The horse disease is abating. Reports from Northern and Western parts of the State show that large numbers of deer are dying apparently from same disease.

A Fatal Affray—New York Affairs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A drunken affray between roughs and thieves, corner Pelham and Cherry streets, relieved the community of two. August Sladonger, proprietor of a restaurant on corner of Broadway and Broad streets, missing; Robert R. Morton, Mileage Clerk for Morris & Essex road, missing. Anthony Eaton, assailed by a target party, is dying.

The Zanzibar Slave Trade.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Yantic and Colorado British steamship Breton, with the promise of support from the Khedive of Egypt, will form an expedition against the slave trade at Zanzibar. The Khedive proposes to anticipate the expedition by seizing the lake region of the Nile.

The Louisiana Election Difficulty.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—Cross injunctions delay the official report. But the Governor appears to have affairs in his own hand. Other returns from the State show that the entire fusion ticket, except Merrill and Darrell, seem to have majorities.

Suspension of a Bank.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.—The Union Bank of Marietta, Ohio, has suspended payment, being the results of its heavy complications growing out of the suspension of J. P. Cutler, announced yesterday.

A Banker Swindled.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 25.—Mr. Read, a banker, has been swindled out of seventeen thousand dollars by the bogus Central Pacific income bonds.

Shoe Factory Burned.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Reynolds & Bros. shoe factory has been burned. Loss $140,000.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Washington Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—General Irvin McDowell, succeeds General Meade as Major General. General McDowell will be assigned to command to the department of the South. Hancock will command the Atlantic Division, vacated by Meade's death. Terry succeeds Hancock in command at the department of the Dakota. McDowell headquarters will be in Louisville. All the Cabinet offices are here. Paymaster Hodge, who was convicted nearly half a million, and was sentenced ten years, has been pardoned; facts seem to show that the paymaster Hodge was trapped into the defalcation.

Reports say that Mr. Greeley's mind is affected, though it is not corroborated by his friends. They have not authorized the statements afloat.

Phillips has qualified as Solicitor General.

In the Supreme Court in the case of Delano against the Merchants Mutual Insurance Company from the Supreme Court of Louisiana, the question was upon the authority of the Constitution of Louisiana to render a contract void, because it was based upon Confederate money as a consideration. In the Court below, it was found that Delano had the prior claim to a certain fund, but that as the consideration which established his claim was Confederate money it failed, and the Insurance Company whose claim was subsequently based on a valid consideration, was entitled to the fund. This court says, in substance, that if the judgment had decided that the contract underlying Delano's claim was void from public policy existing at the time, there would have been no question for revision here, but as the judgment is based upon a provision of the Constitution of the State, framed after the contract was made, which declares that all contracts shall be adjudged void which are founded upon consideration of Confederate money, it will have to be revised, as having sustained a law repugnant to that clause of the Federal Constitution prohibiting the States from making any law which shall impair the obligation of contracts.

The removal of rule by the district board of public works does not interfere with the all rail connection here of the Baltimore & Potomac road, running in connection with the Pennsylvania Central or Tom Scott combination.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In the Gulf States westerly winds, variable southerly to northerly winds, with partly cloudy weather on the Lower Lakes, and thence over the Middle and Eastern States. Southerly winds and cloudy weather, with occasional light rain, clearing to-night, on the lakes.

Ship Burned.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 25.—The ship Friendship was abandoned of the coast of England. The crew is here.

Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—In the storm in the English Channel yesterday, many vessels and lives were lost. The weather today is tempestuous, and more disasters reported. The steamer Nevada put back the second time with damaged machinery.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 25.—About two hundred and fifty shooting stars which were probably fragments of Bielos Comet, were seen here last night, by Professor Newton, of Yale College. They radiated from Gamma and Romedas. It is possible that more of them may be seen this evening.

CAIRO, Nov. 25.—The steamer H. M. Shreve, was burned at Chester. No lives lost.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Special dispatches from Paris to London evening papers report that the situation is gloomy. A majority in the National Assembly, it is stated, has determined to adhere to the position it has taken, and a compromise between the Executive and Legislative Departments of the Government is regarded as improbable.

Rome, Nov. 25.—Five persons, who were prominently connected with the Government, have been arrested for holding a radical meeting, and will be tried on a charge of high treason. No disturbance followed this action of the Government. The city remains quiet. A case, filled with Orsini bombs, destined for Rome, has been seized by the police at the railway station at Leghorn.

The Alabama Political Muddle.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 25.—Governor Lewis and other newly elected State officials assumed their offices this morning. The Rump adjourned until tomorrow. The new Lieutenant Governor informed the regular Senate through the retiring Lieutenant Governor, that he would preside to-morrow, whereupon the Senate elected Mr. Erwin President, pro tem. Gov. Lewis so far has recognized neither body. It is rumored that Lewis will issue a proclamation convening the Legislature at the capitol to-morrow.
